

Using maternity clothes (for adult)

Use maternity outfits

To follow this tutorial you will need

- A .package file of a maternity outfit
- At least an hack of the ones listed in the different methods

Method 1 – for maternity wear from all sites –

Using Squinge's hack Pregnant Sims Wear Any Outfit, downloadable here:

http://www.sims2cri.com/eng_squingemod.php

Make sure you download only the version that is compatible with your EPs and hacks.

This hack allows pregnant sims to wear normal clothes. This may cause game crashes, so make sure your sims wear only clothes you downloaded as maternity wear.

Make a sim go to a community lot, make her buy the outfits (you may find them in casual, pjs or formal either, depending on who made them), have her wear one of them and when she's pregnant click on the wardrobe and select the option to make her wear casual clothes (or pjs or formal, whatever category they were). If the outfit you've set wasn't meant to be a maternity outfit the tummy won't show. To avoid game crashes when the stage of pregnancy changes, or at the birth of the baby, change her clothes until you see the tummy's back (as to say, make her wear the default maternity outfit).

Method 2 – using the InSIMenator –

Using the InSIMenator our clothes can work as real maternity outfit. Just download the InSIMenator, from version SIM 2.5 up, here

<http://www.insimenator.net/forumdisplay.php?f=38>

When you're in the lot of your pregnant sim click on the ground, then

Spawn.../Wardrobe Adjustor.../Buy New Outfit.../Maternity.

You can buy clothes choosing from the ones you have that were meant to be maternity (not everyone modify them with SimPe, but we do).

After you've bought them select Plan Outfit.../Maternity.

Finally, select Change to Maternity.

It's not sure you'll see outfits created by other sites with this method, since I cannot know how they create them. If they don't set them as maternity this method won't work. You could still use method 1 and 2 combined, though.

Method 3 – buying clothes on community lots –

You can make the game more realistic and download Squinge's hack Buy maternity clothes at shop you can find here

http://www.sims2cri.com/eng_squingemod.php.

You will also need Shaklin's Universal Dresser hack you can find here <http://www.sims2cri.com/hackedobject.php> (or you can use insimenator instead).

Moreover, if you wish, if you own Nightlife or a more recent expansion you can download Squinge's Pregnant Sims Can Go To Community Lots, here http://www.sims2cri.com/eng_squingemod.php.

With these hacks you can go to community lots and buy maternity outfits. If the sim is pregnant you will need the third hack to make her go.

Once you've bought them you'll see that sims can't wear them through the normal wardrobe, since they don't have that option. You have to use the universal dresser, first making her select the clothes she'll wear and then selecting the option to make her change into those.

Even this method may not work with other sites's clothes, like method 2. Still, you can always combine it with method 1.

In case with Method 2 or 3 you cannot see all the clothes you have downloaded as maternity (2 alternative methods)

If creators haven't set the maternity wear flag on their clothes you can do it by yourselves. I'd suggest to put all the clothes you know are maternity in an only folder to make the process more simple. You can choose to use Simpe or Wardrobe Wrangler.

First of follow these steps be sure to make a backup copy of all files you edit.

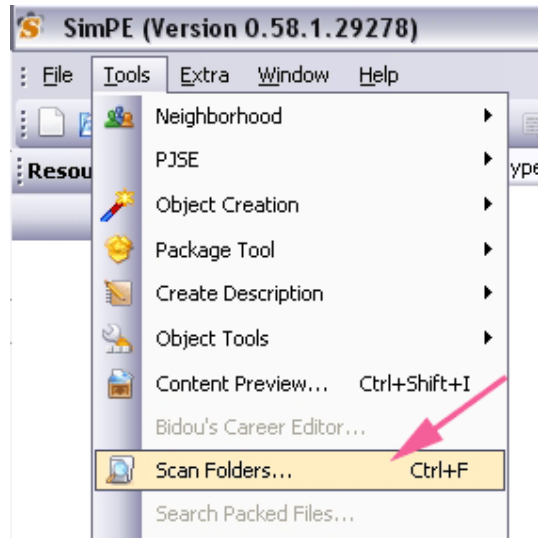

1. USING SIMPE

You will need SimPe, downloadable from this link

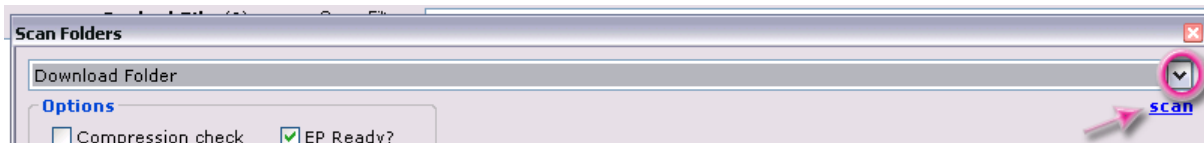

<http://sims.ambertation.de/> (remember you will need Microsoft Framework 2 for it to work, you'll find the links in the Download page at SimPe's, under Needed Software to run SimPe)

Once you've downloaded and installed it, open it and select Tools → Scan Folders

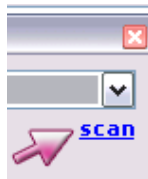

Use maternity outfits

Select the folder where you've put all your maternity outfits in, clicking on the arrow marked in the picture to look for it.

Afterwards, click on Scan.

You'll see a list of all the files in the folder. Select an outfit and check on the tab Operations in which category it's set. If it's not already set as Pregnant thicken it and click on Set categories. It'll look like it went back as it was before your edit, but if you click on Scan again you'll see the changes. Repeat for all the other outfits.

Use maternity outfits

The screenshot shows the Sims 2 wardrobe manager interface. At the top, there is a table listing various maternity outfits. Below the table, there are tabs for 'Scanner Settings', 'Operations', 'Cache', and 'Debug'. The 'Operations' tab is selected, showing a list of age and category filters. Red arrows and text annotations provide instructions on how to use the interface.

1 selezionate un vestito

2 cliccate sulla tab operations

3 selezionate pregnant

4 cliccate su set

2. USING WARDROBE WRANGLER

You will need Wardrobe Wrangler, created by JFade at DjSims downloadable from this link <http://www.djssims.com/index.php?category=1&subcat=5> (remember you will need Microsoft Framework 1.1 for it to work)

Once you've downloaded and installed it, open it.

Use maternity outfits

Now, you have to select folder in which are outfits you want modify

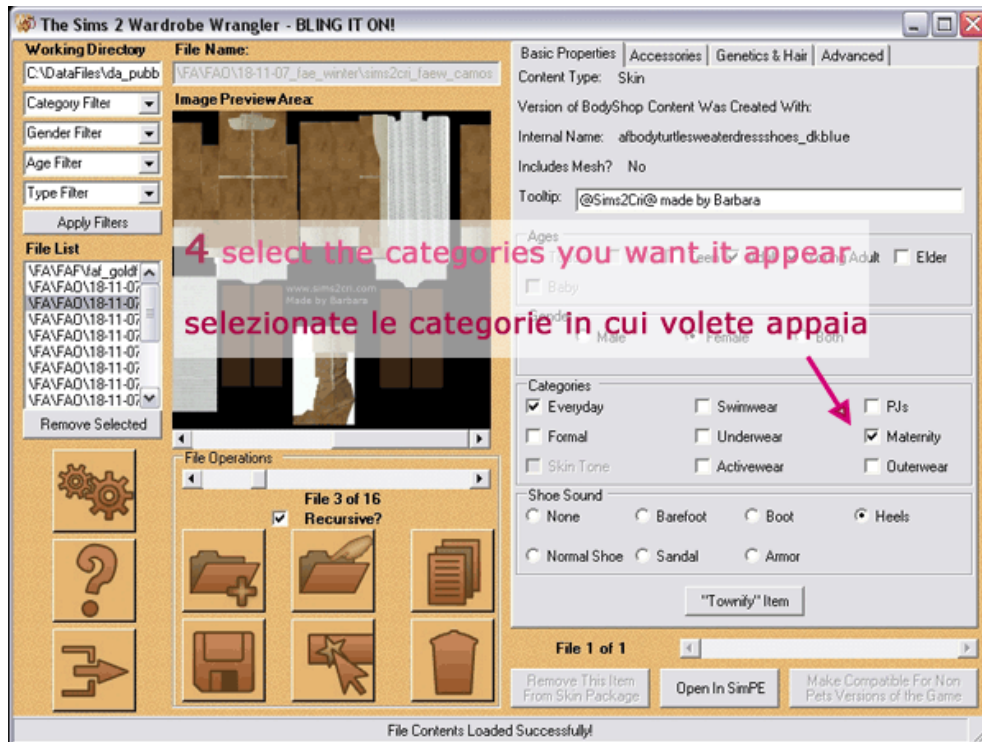

Now you have something like this below, so you've to choose an outfit from the file list

Use maternity outfits

Choose the categories where you want it appear

Now Save the changes. If you want edit some other files proceed by selecting on file list, modifying categories and saving. At the end, when you finish editing exit the programs.
